A Humorous Note From Overseas

Your newspaper is one of the largest receivers of mail in town, much of it junk, of course, but also an occasional gem. Such a gem arrived Monday morning. It was a bulky package from England. And it turned out to be a small-town local paper, the Northern Echo of Darlington, in Durham county. A weekly publication, I believe, the issue reaching me had 20 pages, including a front cover page in four colors.

The edition was promoting a road race between cars of ancient vintage, prominent among which was a Ford Model T.

What hit my eye, however, was a road signboard saying "1 Mile to Hope (England, that is)."

The sender was G. J. MacGregor, who will be remembered by my generation as long-time general manager of the late Hope Basket Co. works before returning to his native England.

Here is his letter:

46, Earl's Drive,
Denton Burn,
Newcastle upon Tyne, 5,
England.
June 24th., 1971.
My dear Alex:

It is a long time since I sent you a British newspaper! However, on this Mid-Summer Day I can't resist sending you yesterday's copy of the Darlington Echo. Nostalgia enters into it - no doubt - note the sign post on the front page!

Anyway I hope you will find the paper interesting; it is a small town paper with quite a history and a good circulation in Durham County. Its one time editor, W. T. Stead, who later went to the London Pall Mall Gazette, was quite a fellow, at one time going to jail, after being involved with the then Archbishop of Canterbury and General Booth of the Salvation Army. He, Stead, together with his wife were drowned in the sinking of the Titanic of 1912. Quite well worth looking up when you are in the mood for that sort of thing!

Anyway, this comes with best wishes to you and others in Hope and Hempstead. Sincerely,

MAC.

G. J. MacGregor.

Interruption In Humid, Hot Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Relief in the form of somewhat cooler temperatures and scattered showers has interrupted the hot, humid weather pattern that has dominated the Arkansas weather picture for the past several weeks.

High temperatures in the mid 80s to low 90s are expected through Wednesday, in contrast to highs the past week almost exclusively in the mid-90s to over-100 range.

Lows in northern Arkansas dipped to the mid 50s early this morning, and are predicted to fall into the upper 50s to low 60s again Wednesday morning. Lows in the southern portion south in the mid to upper 60s.

Most sections of the state, with the exception of a few isolated areas, received some rainfall Monday. However, amounts were generally light.

The showers were forecast to end over the state by tonight, with a drier air mass moving in.

The extended forecast calls for widely scattered thunderstorms Friday and Saturday and Saturday with little change in temperatures.

Overnight lows around the state included Fayetteville 55, Princeton 58, Jonesboro 66, Pine Bluff 73, Texarkana 70, El Dorado 70, Memphis 69, Little Rock 69 and Fort Smith 67.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. today included .50 of an inch at Texarkana, .10 at El Dorado, .03 at Little Rock, .02 at Memphis and traces at Pine Bluff and Fort Smith.

Disruptive Student Can Still Get Aid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A federal appeals court has ruled that Pennsylvania cannot cut off scholarship aid to college students whose administrators report them as "disruptive."

A special panel of three federal judges invalidated a 1969 state law that required colleges which handle state scholarship funds to submit lists of students who have been disciplined by their deans or convicted in court.

The statute, passed by the General Assembly during the Republican administration of then Gov. Raymond P. Shaffer, empowered the Pennsylvania Higher Education Assistance Agency to cut off funds to these students even if they attended school outside the state.

Haverford College, the first of 11 colleges in the nation to refuse to sign the agreement, brought the suit against the state.

The small, Quaker-supported men's school near Philadelphia was joined by Goddard College, a coeducational school in Plainfield, Vt., and 12 students of each college.

The plaintiffs said the law would have a "chilling effect" on academic freedom.

The colleges' contentions were upheld Monday in a majority opinion written by Judge S. Lord III of U.S. District Court.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — On the second anniversary of man's first landing on the moon, the countdown began today for a fourth American expedition to the lunar surface.

The Apollo 15 launch team started the countdown clock at 6:30 a.m. EDT, aiming for a blastoff of the Saturn 5 rocket next Monday at 9:34 a.m. Early activity involved feeding electrical power to the three stages of the giant rocket.

The clock started at 104 hours, 30 minutes. It will be halted at several pre-planned points to provide crew rest periods and catchup time on any item that might fall behind schedule.

Two years ago, on July 20, 1969, Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. took the historic first steps on the moon.

The Apollo 12 and 14 crews since have left their footprints in the dusty lunar soil. An oxygen tank exploded on the Apollo 13 astronauts' spaceship and they were forced to return to earth without attempting a moon landing.

Astronauts David R. Scott and James B. Irwin hope to become the seventh and eighth humans to visit that barren but scientifically fertile land. While they are on the surface a record 67 hours, exploring with a wheeled moon buggy, Alfred M. Worden will conduct a series of scientific and photographic experiments in lunar

Movement of Horses Restricted

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Horses and all other equine in Arkansas will be confined to their current premises for 30 days under an order signed Monday evening by Dr. Richard Thomas, the state veterinarian.

The order was issued in an attempt to immunize horses against Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE).

Movement of animals is permitted in only two instances under the order. Animals may be moved to obtain vaccination against VEE and injured animals may be moved to a veterinarian for treatment.

The order also imposes a 14-day quarantine on vaccinated animals from the date of the vaccination against VEE.

Representatives of 23 various federal and state agencies agreed on the order. The representatives also selected 13 towns as regional centers for distribution of vaccine, which is expected in Little Rock Wednesday or Thursday.

Little Rock, Russellville, Magnolia, Arkadelphia, Mena, Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Harrison, Jonesboro, Batesville, Forrest City, Pine Bluff and McGehee were designated regional centers with Little Rock the central depot for receipt of the serum.

The vaccine, which will be flown into Arkansas in a frozen state, will be taken to the regional centers where it will be distributed to veterinarians in the area.

The serum will be kept in the frozen state at the regional center and will be diluted for inoculation shortly before use. The vaccine has a life of about 12 hours after it is diluted.

Morse May Run Again

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Former Sen. Wayne Morse, 70, says he wants to see how the candidates line up before deciding whether to run for the Senate in 1972.

Morse, a Democrat, was defeated in 1968 by Republican Bob Packwood. The seat he would seek is now held by Sen. Mark Hatfield, a Republican and opponent of the Vietnam war.

Hatfield has not said whether he will run for re-election. Oregon Gov. Tom McCall, a Republican, has indicated he will run.

$800,000 in Checks Is Shredded

By JAMES E. SHELLEY
Associated Press Writer

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Two dozen young bank employees have been holed up in a well guarded room for a week, painstakingly piecing together some $800,000 worth of checks that were inadvertently shredded for trash.

Some of the checks have been photographed and all of them have been recoded, a bank spokesman said Monday. This has aided in the reconstruction of nearly $300,000 worth of checks.

Earlier this month a janitor at the home office of the First Security Bank picked up what he thought was a bundle of trash and routinely ran it through the wastepaper shredder.

The "trash" actually was $847,000 worth of clearing checks. Each check was neatly cut into approximately 10 lengthwise strips that were then well blended.

The end product: one super challenging jigsaw puzzle. Bank officials obtained the stark, unairconditioned room above a local mortgage and loan firm and went to work.

Cashier George Bossert said he expects the work to be completed by about mid-August.

The bank emphasizes that no matter what portion of the mutilated checks remain lost, there will be no loss to First Security.

Telephone and Postal Agreements Work Out, Bright Part of Economy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone workers prepared today to return to work under terms of a proposed contract as leaders of seven postal unions gathered here to discuss a tentative agreement worked out with the U.S. Postal Service.

The two agreements, covering more than 1 million workers nationwide, were bright spots on a labor front still facing the dim prospect of further railroad tieups by the weekend.

The Postal Service, which replaced the Post Office Department July 1, worked out the final pact with a union subcommittee after 36 hours of "round-the-clock bargaining."

A spokesman said it was "in the neighborhood" of $750 million but he disclosed no specifics.

Pay of a postal worker now runs from $7,100 per year to an average $9,700 after eight

1972 Draft Lottery Set for Aug. 5

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1972 draft lottery was set today for Aug. 5 amid doubts that Congress will renew the nation's draft law before September.

Selective Service Director Curtis W. Tarr said the lottery, for determining the order in which men will be called up in 1972, will begin at 10 a.m. in the Commerce Department auditorium in Washington.

The actual authority to draft expired June 30 but Tarr said the lottery is conducted under Selective Service machinery which is not affected by the draft expiration.

"The young men who face possible induction next year," the Selective Service chief said, "deserve to know their relative chances for induction so that they are better able to plan ahead."

A conference committee from the House and Senate has been unable to agree on an extension of the draft law, having become hung up on an Indochina war-pullout amendment. Some of the conferees say they doubt an agreement can be reached to renew the draft law before September.

Tarr said the Aug. 5 drawing will involve two drums—one containing all 366 birthdates in the year and the other containing the number 1 through 366 which will determine the order

Home Building Agreements Work Out, Bright Part of Economy

By BILL NEIKIRK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the economy is falling short of President Nixon's forecast, the pace of U.S. homebuilding is picking up and proving the brightest spot in the recovery from last year's recession.

The Commerce Department reported Monday privately owned housing starts in June climbed to an annual rate of 1.982 million units on a seasonally adjusted basis, up slightly from the May rate of 1.959 million units.

Homebuilding has made a dramatic comeback from last year's slowdown, when tight money policies and high interest rates hampered the industry. Housing starts have remained at a level of 1.9 million units over the last six months, a 48-per-cent increase over the same six-month period in 1970.

Although private residential construction is only a small part of the economy, Nixon administration officials see the rise as evidence of a broad upswing in the economy.

Settlement to Cost Bell $20 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The general manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Arkansas says the firm's settlement with the Communications Workers of America will cost the company more than $20 million in Arkansas during the life of the three-year contract.

Warren Bray, the general manager, also said that Bell "must continue to review ways to improve our revenues." Bray said, however, that the company is not contemplating raising its rates at the present time.

"We are confident, too, we can offset some of the cost of the settlement through improved technology and operating efficiencies," Bray said.

The workers who have been striking since last Wednesday are expected to return to work tonight. The new contract, which covers 3,000 Bell employees in Arkansas, will go into effect Aug. 14 if it is ratified by the union membership. The first year of the contract will provide wage increases in Arkansas ranging from $4.50 a week to $25 a week.

Mills Wants Stimulating Tax Cut

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., says the next move is up to President Nixon if there are to be economy-stimulating tax cuts.

But Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee, says the Democratic-controlled Congress is not likely to uphold its part of the plan advanced by Mills, chairman of the committee.

Despite the partisan sparring over Mills' proposals for tax breaks for business and low-income individuals, there were reports of quiet efforts to set up discussions seeking common ground between the Republican administration—which contends no tax cut is necessary—and Congress' Democratic tax chief.

In a speech to Utah Democrats Friday, Mills charged the Nixon economic plan has failed either to cut unemployment significantly or to curb inflation.

He proposed reviving the investment tax credit, which allowed businesses to charge off against their taxes part of their investment in equipment, and increasing the minimum standard deduction, which helps low-income taxpayers reduce their tax bill.

To make tax cuts possible, Mills said, a spending ceiling should be imposed and the government should adopt an "effective incomes policy" to hold down price and wage increases.

Spelling out his ideas in more detail in an interview, Mills said the incomes policy should include government-set wage and price guidelines—a move the administration has avoided.

In case of threats to exceed the guidelines, Mills said, the President could publicize the situation and arouse public opinion.

Mills said Congress would enact a spending ceiling in connection with tax cuts and that it could be effective.

He said a much-criticized effort to put a lid on spending had worked during the Lyndon B. Johnson administration.

Although it provided exceptions for expenditures declared uncontrollable, Mills said, Johnson cut other spending for a net reduction of more than $2 billion.

rice H. Stans said the administration's goal of reaching 2.6 million new housing units a year for the current decade "is now clearly achievable."

Stans did not mention a recent upward push of interest rates which has added to the cost of housing. But the increase in costs apparently has failed to dampen the pace of building new homes.

Nixon's own economic advisers already have abandoned part of that economic plan, a $665-trillion economy this year. But they have said housing will be strong even though the economy will fall short of original expectations.

Last year, housing was in a depressed state. With the administration pursuing tight budgetary and monetary policies, interest rates climbed to historic highs and homebuilding tailed off.

In June a year ago, housing starts were at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.398 million.

But the real pickup in homebuilding came toward the end of last year as the administration made the budget more expansive and the Federal Reserve Board eased up considerably on the monetary supply.

As a result, the ceiling on government-backed housing loans dropped from a record high of 8½ per cent last year to 7 per cent at present.

Redistricting Is Completed by Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Apportionment officially concluded legislative redistricting Monday, 168 days after the Feb. 1 deadline.

Monday's action included certifying maps and legal descriptions of the new districts to Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

The board also made several small adjustments and corrections in the plans.

The adjustments included restoring to Phillips County a township that had been originally included in a different district and placing back in Jackson County one township that had been made part of another district.

Gov. Dale Bumpers, chairman of the board, said that during the board's deliberations his philosophy of redistricting had changed from a total single-member concept to the acceptance of multimember districts under some circumstances.

The plan adopted by the board has a few multimember districts for the House, but only single-member districts for the Senate.

The governor said he believed the multimember districts were acceptable when the effect of redistricting on the election process could be minimized, the community of interests of the districts increased and the rights of the citizens in the area not jeopardized.

Bumpers said his earlier, firm pronouncement for single-member districts was based on the belief that the U.S. Supreme Court would require such districts. The court later permitted multimember districts in Indiana.

Says Embargo on Gas Costs State Plants

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A minimum of 12 industries representing a potential investment of some $290 million have declined to locate in Arkansas because of an embargo on new natural gas sales to industries, J. Daniel Roebuck, director of the state Department of Industrial Development, said Monday.

Roebuck said the state's industrial program is almost at a standstill because of the unavailability of natural gas for boiler fuel and because no industrial contracts are available to offer potential industries.

Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. has stopped negotiating contracts to new industries and is curtailing its sales to existing industries because of a natural gas shortage.

Arkla says the situation can be remedied if the Federal Power Commission decides to permit Arkla to build a pipeline to the Anadarko Basin in the Texas Panhandle and western Oklahoma. The pipeline project would require about one year of construction after authorization.

Roebuck said the gas supply problem is one of the main concerns of his office. He said Troy York, director of the state Department of Planning, was trying to arrange a federal grant of at least $100,000 for the state to study the future needs and supplies of energy in the state. Roebuck said it would apply to all forms of energy.

Made, Lost $100 Million in Port Thefts

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Promised immunity from prosecution, a self-confessed mail thief told senators today he made and lost $400,000 in three years from 100 airport thefts he said totaled more than $100 million.

James V. Schaefer, 30, a lean tattooed New Yorker, told the Senate investigations subcommittee the loot ranged from millions of dollars in securities and a $100,000 diamond to "top secret" missile plans and Christmas cookies sent to soldiers in Vietnam.

Schaefer supported in almost every detail testimony given last month by Robert P. Cudak, said to have been the leader of the most spectacularly successful theft ring in recent times.

"In his testimony, Bobby Cudak said he taught he had stolen property worth more than $100 million," Schaefer said. "I agree with his figures to the best of my knowledge."

Schaefer, now serving a five-year prison term, identified several persons he said were central figures in the ring. He said he believed—but had no evidence—that most of the fences receiving the stolen stocks, bonds, travelers checks, jewels and furs, were linked closely with organized crime.

Seeking to Learn If Man, Ape Are Kin

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Scientists using electronic gadgetry and a female ape named Inaki are seeking to establish whether man descended from apes as we know them—or from a unique ape that always walked upright.

Dr. Russell H. Tuttle, a University of Chicago anthropologist who heads the project, subscribes to the theory that man's forebears were a special species of ape which began walking upright soon after leaving the trees.

Tuttle seeks to prove through his work at the Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center at Emory University that man never passed through a "knuckle walking" phase. Many anthropologists contend that man did evolve through such a stage and, in many respects, resembled apes as they exist today.

"I can't tell you what man's ancestors may have looked like," says Tuttle, whose work on the topic has appeared in numerous scientific journals. "But he was a unique creature."

Tuttle's dissection of arms and hands of apes shows considerable unique anatomy that allows an ape to place his weight on the knuckles of his hands and propelling his body forward. Man, he says, has no vestige of this anatomy.

He is using electronic equipment and Inaki "to look at the forearm and hand of the primate to see if it works even remotely like man's."

"At the moment, we don't think so," he said.

Tuttle is collaborating on the project with Dr. John V. Basmajian, an Emory physiologist who specializes in electronic research on muscle function.

The project, funded by the National Science Foundation, orbit.

The three spacemen planned to spend most of today rehearsing in lunar and command module simulators here. They were in the trainers Monday, and Scott and Irwin later drove a model of their moon cart over a mock moonscape, practicing the second and third of the three excursions they plan on the surface.

Scott and Irwin are to land July 30 at the base of the Apennine Mountains, whose 15,000-foot peaks are the tallest on the moon.

They are to drive 22 miles, searching for original lunar crust at the mountain front, exploring a mile-wide canyon called Hadley Rille and inspecting craters that might provide the first evidence of volcanic activity on the moon.

The launch team Monday successfully checked a new inverter placed in the Apollo 15 command ship because of a brief power dropout during a countdown test last week.

NASA also announced that one change is being made on Apollo 15 as a result of the deaths of three Soviet cosmonauts as their Soyuz 11 craft reentered earth's atmosphere June 30. The tragedy was blamed on sudden depressurization of the cabin.

All three Apollo 15 astronauts will wear pressure suits instead of flight coveralls when the lunar module is jettisoned in lunar orbit after the moon exploration. NASA said this was being done because of what it termed the remote possibility of a pressure failure when the lunar ship is kicked away by explosive devices.

began with a familiarization period during which Tuttle struck up a friendship with Inaki. The ape then was moved into a trailer rigged with Basmajian's electronic gear.

Fine-wire electrodes were implanted in the gorilla's forearm and the wires were connected to small preamplifiers.

MR. AND MRS. STEVEN L. SKIDMORE

Miss Linda Gail Britt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Garner Britt, became the bride of Steven L. Skidmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Skidmore of Nashville, at 7 o'clock, Friday evening, July 9, at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Britt.

Vows were exchanged before an improvised altar of Greenery, interspersed with tall white candles, flanked on either side with tall baskets of White Gladiolas.

Rev. Gerald Trussell, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Prior to the entrance of the Bridal Party, soft nuptial music by Mrs. Arthur Strech, was heard in the background.

Candles were lighted by Miss Lori Britt, sister of the Bride. She wore a light green chiffon dress, with fitted bodice, trimmed in white.

Miss Karen Britt served her sister as Maid of Honor. She wore a street length dress of light green chiffon, with a fitted bodice, and carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies. The Bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length dress of Chantilly Lace and Nylon Organza. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace and Seeded pearls held a Chappel length Train. Her finger-tip veil of Frencie Illusion, fell from a cap of white taffeta and seeded pearls. The long fitted sleeves ended in a calla point over the shoulder. The Groom's mother wore a light green double knit and her corsage was white carnations. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held by the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Britt and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Townsend.

The table was covered with a floor length cloth of Green Net and was centered with a Silver Bowl, filled with white carnations and daisies, interspersed with white lighted candles. On either end a Fostoria bowl of Green punch and a three tier wedding cake was served by Mrs. Roy Taylor and Mrs. George Young, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Olan Reeves, Aunt of the bride. Summer flowers were seen throughout the reception rooms. Bags of rice were distributed by Miss Lori Britt.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip. For travel the bride chose a pink double knit sport suit, and pinned an orchid from her Bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

The bride is a graduate of Hope High School, and is presently employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

North's jump to three hearts is a limit raise, but South has enough to continue to game. In JACOBY MODERN, you only pass after a limit raise with a real minimum.

South plays dummy's queen of diamonds at trick one. The king covers and South sees a considerable problem in trump management developing. He may want to ruff two diamonds and a spade in dummy, so the last thing he plans is to play trumps. He lets East hold the first diamond. East leads a trump. South wins in dummy and notes East holds all the missing trumps.

This shouldn't worry South. He leads a spade to his king. West takes the ace. So far, South has found the king of diamonds, ace of spades, and king of trumps wrong, but he has no worries, provided he can ruff a spade and two diamonds in dummy.

West leads the nine of diamonds. When East plays the jack, South should be alerted to ruffing a spade before a diamond.

HAIR POLLUTION PROBLEMS

Dear Helen: There's been much talk of the threat to our environment by polluting lakes and streams.

Last summer when I was at camp, many of the kids washed their hair in the lake. Helen, we have showers at camp, and the used water goes into septic tanks. The lake is so clean and pretty. Won't it be polluted by hair-washing? Shampoos are probably higher phosphate detergents than those used on clothes.

If I'm wrong, I won't say anything to the camp director this year, so please tell me so I'll know if I'm right to protest. — YOUNG CONCERNED CAMPER

Dear Camper:

I'd say you have a right to protest. While septic tanks may eventually drain into the lake (I hope not!!!) the water is at least filtered first by settling beds and ground seepage...though that doesn't do much for phosphates. If everyone using the lake washed his or her hair in it, there soon be a scum so thick you'd have to cut it.—H.

Dear Helen:

I'm embarrassed by my mother. She drinks, walks around the house with nothing on, leaves the bathroom door open, even when I have company, and she follows me everywhere, either yelling or crying.

I stay away as much as possible and never bring anyone home with me, but you don't keep many friends that way. The one or two times I slept over at a girl friend's house, my mother called about 2 a.m. and I couldn't shut her off 'cause she was drunk. Naturally I wasn't ever invited again.

I tried staying home and keeping the booze away from her but she just hid and sneaked it. I'd run away, but then she really WOULD drink herself to death. And I'd feel as though I caused it. It's awful to hate and love your mother, all at once. — MISERABLE

Dear Miserable:

Your mother is sick. She needs close-in help and, if she won't accept it via Alcoholics

Dear Helen:

In high school I knew two girls who were such close friends that people insinuated they were queer. I never believed it, because Mary was a childhood friend of mine.

The other day I saw Mary downtown, and noticed she had on an engagement ring. I congratulated her, and she hesitated and said, "Ann, I'm dying to tell someone about this, and I know you won't condemn me like others might....Amy and I are engaged and we are trying to find a way to be legally married."

Helen, I was caught off balance and was just speechless. So Mary turned and walked away, very hurt.

Could you tell me what I can do to let her know I'm really not condemning. After all, she is a good person, a long time friend, and who am I to judge? —ANN

Dear Ann: A card or letter, saying essentially what you wrote in your letter to me, should make Mary realize that you can like the person even though you can't understand her actions. —H.

Unitas Back in Swing of Things

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bart Starr and John Unitas, two of the National Football League's all-time great quarterbacks, made the news out of pro football's training camps Monday. For Unitas the news was good, but for Starr, not so good.

Unitas, who underwent surgery after rupturing his right Achilles tendon playing paddle ball April 7, threw hard passes for 15 minutes at the Baltimore Colts training camp in Westminster, Md.

It was the first time Unitas, 38, had set up and thrown to receivers since camp opened July 11. Unitas is under doctor's orders not to do any running until August.

But while Unitas was able to throw without pain, Starr was not. The Green Bay Packer veteran, who came up with a sore arm late last season, felt pain in his throwing arm and will have to stop passing for the foreseeable future, according to Coach Dan Devine.

Devine said he was not ready to push the panic button and start a trade for a quarterback. The Packers have veteran Zeke Bratkowski, attempting a comeback at 39 after two years as an assistant coach; rookie Scott Hunter, a number six draft pick from Alabama; and second year man Frank Patrick, a converted tight end. "They probably are a lot better than anyone who is available," Devine said.

The other major news revolved around Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick, Ron Johnson and Larry Brown, four of the leading

Pirates Blast L.A. 10 to 4

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
You can't keep a good team down, even if you beat it to death with 15 hits.

"One game doesn't mean there isn't a tomorrow," said Pittsburgh catcher Manny Sanguillen after the Pirates were blasted 10-4 by the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday night.

Sanguillen's optimism is understandable. After all, it was only the first game the Pirates had lost in 12. And the National League's East Division leaders didn't lose any ground because Montreal beat second-place Chicago 5-3 and kept the Pirates' spread at 11½ games.

The New York Mets, who once held first place until they hit the skids, turned back St. Louis 5-2 and jumped over the Cardinals into third, 12½ games behind Pittsburgh.

In the other National League games, the Houston Astros tripped the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 in 11 innings; the San Francisco Giants bounced the Atlanta Braves 11-8 and the San Diego Padres stopped the Cincinnati Reds 4-3.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox won a doubleheader from the New York Yankees, 8-3 and 3-1; the Detroit Tigers defeated the Kansas City Royals 5-2; the Washington Senators topped the Minnesota Twins 5-2; the Baltimore Orioles tripped the Oakland A's 4-2 and Cleveland trimmed California 3-1. Rain washed out Milwaukee at Boston.

The Los Angeles hitting spree not only laid the Pirates' 11-game winning streak to rest, but also woke the Dodgers out of a recent lethargy. They had only scored four runs in their last four games.

Some of the Dodgers took extra batting practice before the game. Included among them was shortstop Maury Wills, who drove in three runs with a double and single.

TAMPA, Fla. — Willie Wilson, 175, Tampa, outpointed Karl Zurhede, 175, Milwaukee, 10.

League home run and Ron Fairly's two-run single led Montreal over Chicago. Woods delivered a two-run shot in the first after a walk to Ron Hunt, his first homer since being acquired from the New York Yankees for Ron Swoboda last month.

Fairly's hit in the sixth inning sent Cubs ace Ken Holtzman to the showers.

Spot starter Ray Sadecki fired a three-hitter and New York erupted for all its runs in the second inning to beat St. Louis and snap a three-game losing streak. Prior to Monday night's game, the spinning Mets lost 14 of 16 games.

Cesar Cedeño slugged a bases-loaded single in the last of the 11th inning to send the Houston fans home happy.

Roger Metzger opened the rally with a single off Philadelphia reliever Billy Wilson, who took over for starter Rick Wise. Wilson then tossed away Joe Morgan's attempted sacrifice bunt, putting runners on second and third. After Jim Wynn was intentionally walked, Cedeño smacked his game-winner.

San Francisco wasted a six-run lead before Bobby Bonds doubled and scored the tie-breaking run on a throwing error as the Giants outlasted the Braves in a 3½-hour contest. Bonds scored from second with two down when Darrell Evans fielded Dick Dietz' bounce and threw past third. Dietz later scored when Hal Lanier singled and the Giants added their final tally on Willie Mays' run-scoring single in the ninth.

Ed Spiezio's two-out, two-run homer in the eighth inning powered San Diego over Cincinnati and snapped the Padres' losing streak at four games.

McDowell Fined $1,000

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Suddenly, Sam's wallet was a lot thinner. And just as suddenly, so were some of California's hopes of a sustained drive towards the top of the American League West.

Sudden Sam McDowell, slapped with a $1,000 fine Sunday by Cleveland Manager Alvin Dark for "rowdiness" on the team bus, vented some of his frustrations on California's reviving Angels, slapping them down with a seven-hit 3-1 triumph Monday night.

The big left-hander fanned seven Angels and blanked them until second baseman Eddie Leon dropped what would have been the game-ending pop, allowing Syd O'Brien to scout all the way home from first.

Rick Clark silenced the Tribe on just six hits through eight innings before McDowell and Ted Uhlaender opened the ninth with bunt singles. A bases-loaded walk to Chris Chambliss, an error and an infield out sent in Cleveland's runs.

In other American League games Monday, the Chicago White Sox swept a twilight doubleheader from the New York Yankees, 8-3 in 10 innings and 3-1, Baltimore topped Oakland 4-2 in an afternoon game and, under the lights, Detroit whipped Kansas City 5-2 and Washington clipped Minnesota by the same score. Milwaukee's game at Boston was rained out.

In the National League, Los Angeles snapped Pittsburgh's 11-game winning string with a 10-4 triumph, the New York Mets beat St. Louis 5-2, San Francisco outlasted Atlanta 11-8, San Diego edged Cincinnati 4-3, Montreal tripped the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and Philadelphia nosed out Houston 3-2 in 11 innings.

The Angels, ripped apart earlier this season by dissension, had been putting their game together since the suspension of moody Alex Johnson and the retirement of disappointing Tony Conigliaro.

McDowell, who went through a spring training salary dispute and early-season pitching problems, boosted his record to 9-3 as he shrugged off the whop-ping fine.

The team bus incident reportedly involved McDowell's use of abusive language on a ride from Los Angeles International Airport to Anaheim and a Cleveland official said the pitcher also committed "other indiscreet acts," including swearing loudly at Dark.

The hurler and manager clashed recently when McDowell, selected as a pitcher for the All-Star Game, was scratched by Dark due to a sore shoulder.

The White Sox pounced on Mel Stottlemyre for five runs in the 10th inning of their first game with Bill Melton's bases-loaded single and Ed Herrmann's three-run homer the big hits while three relievers blanked the Yanks on four hits through the final 9 2-3 innings.

In the second game, Tommy John weaved a four-hitter of his own and Carlos May drove in all of Chicago's runs with a homer and a tie-breaking, two-run single.

Pat Dobson boosted his record to 12-4 with his ninth successive victory as he scattered seven hits, including Rick Monday's two-run homer for the A's. Paul Blair and Dave Johnson hit solo round-trippers for the Orioles.

Mickey Lolich gained his 15th victory with an eight-hitter and led the Tigers at the plate as well, ripping a double and two singles and driving in a pair of runs against the Royals.

Dick Billings' two-run homer capped the Senators' four-run uprising in the third while Harmon Killebrew's sixth-inning single scored both of the Twins' runs.

"Autographed" Bats Are a Problem

ANAHEIM (AP) — An engraved "autographed" baseball bat is a prized possession of many youngsters. Baseball teams print them up and proudly hand them out every season, proclaiming the name of an idolized star.

A problem has arisen, however in the case of Alex Johnson, the Angel with the tarnished halo.

His employers, the California Angels, have 5,000 bats in the recesses of Anaheim Stadium that bear the legend, "Alex Johnson, 1970 American League Batting Champion."

Johnson has been suspended for lack of hustle.

The Angel brass has indicated Johnson may never play for them again. If he had been traded, the club might sell the bats to his new team. With Johnson suspended, the bats remain in limbo.

The problem arose a year ago when the Angels held a Bat Day and ran out of bats—a situation no baseball team ever wishes to encounter because it means explaining to a tearful boy why he didn't get the souvenir he traveled 100 miles for.

To head off that situation this year, the Angels ordered an oversupply, figuring they'd get used somehow. About 25,000 were given out; 5,000 remained.

"Two or three years ago we had leftover bats with all kinds of names on them—Bobby Knoop, Tom Satirano, Bubba Morton, Jay Johnstone," recalls Angel publicist George Lederer, mentioning names of former Angels who had been traded.

"We gave them away anyway. What the hell, a bat's a bat. Two years ago we even had some Hal Lanier bats sneak in somehow. I don't know how that happened," Lederer says. Lanier of the San Francisco Giants, has never played for the Angels.

But with Johnson, the case is different. The bats represent about $5,000 so throwing them away would be foolish. And in Alex's present state of disfavor, the club has no intention of giving them to fans.

The Angels are planning to keep the bats and hope Alex is either traded in the off-season or comes back next season with a new attitude.

Travelers Downed 10-4 by Spurs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs scored four earned runs in the fifth inning and added four unearned runs in the sixth on their way to a 10-4 victory over the Arkansas Travelers here Monday night.

Randy Cohen went the distance for the Spurs, scattering 12 hits. Dennis Daboll was the loser.

The Travelers jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning, but the Spurs went ahead 4-1 in the fifth. Arkansas scored a run in the bottom of the fifth, but the Spurs spurred to an 8-2 lead with four runs in the top of the sixth.

Tommy Heintzelman led the Travelers with four hits including a home run and a double.

The Travelers' loss coupled with Shreveport's 4-3 victory over San Antonio reduced Arkansas' lead to 4½ games over Shreveport in the Central Division of the Dixie Association.

In other league action, Jacksonville beat Montgomery 6-4, Savannah beat Asheville 8-5, and Columbus and Charlotte split a doubleheader, Columbus winning the first game 3-2 and Charlotte the second game 4-2. Birmingham at Albuquerque was postponed because of wet grounds as was Memphis at Amarillo.

Ehrenverth Retiring From Hockey

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — Perhaps only his sense of humor permitted Edgar Ehrenverth to survive 12 rugged and frustrating seasons of minor league hockey. Now he's getting out but with a wide grin—his trademark.

The articulate Ehrenverth announced his retirement Monday from the San Diego Gulls of the Western Hockey League after receiving accolades from Gull Coach Max McNab as a great penalty killer, a superb team player and a guy "who has done everything a player can do for a team."

Ehrenverth blushed, laughed and said, "Hey, after hearing stuff like that, maybe I can play another couple of seasons on my reputation."

For the right winger who once went 51 games without scoring a goal, hockey was not life and death or an eternal struggle. It was simply a game. He was philosophical about his lack of scoring and approached everything with humor.

"Oh, I'll miss the game. I played ever since I could stand up and just playing for the Gulls made my boyhood dream come true. I realized I had limited ability but I really wanted to play. Well, now I suppose I'll miss even the losing streaks," said the 31-year-old veteran from Peach River, Alberta, Canada.

Drafted in 1966 by the Gulls, Ehrenverth became a starter immediately and McNab said Monday that "I never put together a tentative starting lineup that didn't contain Edgar's name."

Injuries nearly destroyed his chances of becoming a star. First there was a skull fracture and then a shoulder separation and then knee problems requiring operations and constant care. "I'm not retiring because of the knees. After all, hockey players don't last that long—especially two-goal men." Ehrenverth scored just two goals last season.

His humor was manifested in what some would call the bizarre.

Often he'd walk through a crowded airport waiting room holding a cigarette between thumb and forefinger, European style, speaking very loudly with a Ukrainian accent. His teammates would shy away but the act continued, even if there was no one close by to listen.

Once he sneaked up behind former teammate Del Topoli and began barking like a dog and grabbing at Topoli's leg. Topoli jumped five feet.

On his 51-game scoreless streak:

"My teammates are great guys but I can't share the credit with them—this is an individual effort."

On losing streaks:

"You'd sit there in the plane, wishing it would crash."

"I had hoped to buy some stock in the Gulls before this became public," he said of his retirement. "It figures to go up now."

Ashe, Laver Eliminated in 1st Round

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Top-seeded Arthur Ashe and second-seeded Rod Laver were eliminated in the first round of the Pro Tennis Classic here Monday.

Ashe was ousted by Nikola Pilic of Yugoslavia, 3-6, 7-6, 7-6, and then first-year pro Bill Bowrey stunned fellow Australian Laver, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

In other matches, Dennis Ralston got past Allan Stone of Australia, 6-4, 7-6, Andrews Gimen of Spain needed only 50 minutes to eliminate left-handed Australian Owen Davidson, 6-2, 6-3, and Ismail El Shafei of Egypt defeated American Roy Barth, 6-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Celtics Coach Dies

BOSTON (AP) — John J. "Jack" Waldron, 59, former president of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association, died Monday at University Hospital 10 days after undergoing a cancer operation.

Waldron, born in New Bedford, was a former president of the Ruppert Knickerbocker Brewery and later was president of P. Ballantine and Sons.

In 1965, Waldron negotiated purchase of the Celtics by Ruppert from the widow of the team's founder, Walter Brown, and Lou Pini. Waldron became the Celtics president, and when National Equities of New York sold the brewery but retained the basketball team he stayed on as president of the team.

In 1967, after moving to Ballantine as a vice president, he negotiated the sale of the Celtics a second time, this time to Ballantine, and became the Celtics' president again.

In 1969, Trans-National Communications purchased the team and Waldron remained as president, leaving Ballantine. He left the Celtics in 1970 to become president of Robbin-Dale Uniform Co., Baltimore.

He leaves his widow, Janet, a son and two daughters.

The 15 year-olds also played Malvern Friday, but they were defeated 8 to 4. They'll be back in Sheridan tonight to play either Texarkana or Nashville at 8 p.m.

Dicus Has Best Hands in Club

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Chuck Dicus, the San Diego Chargers' seventh round draft choice, has become the National Football League team's leading punt and kickoff returner.

Last year, the Chargers depended on rookie Chris Fletcher, who led them in both departments, averaging 22.5 yards on kickoffs and 8.6 yards on punts. The No. 2 man was Speedy Duncan, who was traded to Washington for a draft choice during the off season.

Dicus was given a trial at returning kicks Monday and Chargers Coach Sid Gillman said he liked what he saw.

"He's got the best hands on the club," Gillman said, "and he's smart and he learns quickly."

Dicus, from Arkansas, is also a good bet to make the team as a wide receiver.

Publicity Good for Can. Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Notes from the pro golf tournament trail:

Lee Trevino's victory in the Canadian Open, sandwiched between his U.S. and British Open triumphs, may be the best thing that has happened to that north-of-the-border event in years.

It's certain that his sweep of the three national titles in four weeks has provided the Canadian—now mentioned in the same breath with the U.S. and British—with more publicity than it has had in at least a decade.

And it may have gone a long way toward elevating that event from just another stop on the schedule to—at least—a slightly higher category. It's no secret Canadian officials aspire to bigger and better things, and the unusually large attendance this year, despite the relatively remote location of the Richelieu Valley course, could prompt them to make every effort to increase the prestige of their national championship.

Three brother combinations have signed up to compete as entries in the National Team championship at Laurel Valley, Pa., week after next.

They are Dave and Mike Hill, Tom and Mickey Shaw, Dick and John Lotz.

Lee Trevino has veteran Howie Johnson as a partner. Arnold Palmer, competing on his home course, and Jack Nicklaus are the defending champions.

There was some talk that Gary Player of South Africa and Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina may play as a team, but they couldn't work out their schedules.

Because of unfavorable starting times in the first two rounds at Cleveland, avid baseball fan Ken Still couldn't get away to accept Leo Durocher's offer to manage the Chicago Cubs in an exhibition game.

Lee Trevino, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Homero Blancas and Cesar Sanudo went out in a four-some in a recent practice round. And was any English spoken?

"Sure," said Sanudo. "By the caddies."

Catholics 20-9 Over Baptists

In the first Christian Athletic Association softball game played Monday night, Calvary Baptist was defeated by the Catholics; the score was 20 to 9. Gene Robinson hit two homers and John Henley and Paul Henley hit one each, all for the Catholics. In the second game Assembly of God edged Providence Baptist 26 to 24.

Schedule for make-up games is as follows:

July 20 6:30 p.m. First Baptist vs. Providence Baptist.

July 27 Liberty Baptist vs. First Baptist.

First Methodist vs. Hope Church of Christ.

August 10 Assembly of God vs. Calvary Baptist.

Catholics vs. Hope Church of Christ, playoff of tie game.

August 21 7:15 p.m. First Baptist vs. Hope Church of Christ.

Spendthrift Farms Has Record Sales

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Leslie Combs' Spendthrift Farms, which last year set a record for the most money received at the Keeneland Summer Yearling Sale, has topped the old mark.

During the first two sessions Monday, Combs sold 26 yearlings for a total of $619,000, or $4,000 more than his sales totaled last year at this point.

Combs' offering sold at an average of $23,809 each.

In individual sales Al Savin, the master of Ascot Stable of Ocala, Fla., paid $200,000 for a bay son of Raise a Native, the fourth highest in the history of the auction of prime thoroughbred stock.

But still it was overshadowed by four six-figure purchases by trainer Henry Forrest, who said, "We're looking for ourselves."

Laver Takes Medalist Honors

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Girl watchers looked forward to predicted warmer weather today as the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament swung into the first round of match play.

The Flossmoor Country Club course was swept by cold winds during Monday's qualifying round for 32 places in the championship flight. As a result, most of the girls wore slacks and it wasn't a banner girl watchers' day.

The sun should bring out the miniskirts and minishorts. Players are forbidden to wear hot pants.

Bonnie Lauer of Michigan State, 1971 Midwest collegiate champion, took medalist honors with a one over par 78, capped by a 20-foot birdie putt on the final hole.

Cepeda to Undergo Surgery

ATLANTA (AP) — Orlando Cepeda says he wants no part of a pinch-hitting role and prefers to undergo immediate surgery if it will enable him to play regularly.

"I don't want to be a pinch hitter," said Cepeda, who has not been a regular in the Atlanta Braves' lineup since June 27 because of an injured left knee. "If I can't play every day, I don't want to play. I want to earn my money."

"I will do everything I can to get my knee well . . . I will do anything they say," he added Monday.

Braves Vice President Paul Richards said Sunday he would rather that Cepeda not undergo surgery now. "I'd rather have him around as a pinch hitter than to lose him altogether for the rest of the year," Richards said.

Cepeda said he isn't attempting to challenge Richards; he just doesn't want to be a pinch hitter.

Blaine Nye Announces Retirement

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Blaine Nye, starting offensive right guard for the Dallas Cowboys, announced his retirement Monday, a team spokesman said.

Nye, 25, is a three-year veteran from Stanford. He moved into the starting lineup last season and was expected to start again this year.

Nye hadn't yet signed a contract for the upcoming season but Coach Tom Landry said he didn't think a salary dispute was involved.

"Blaine told us the contract he had been offered was fair," Landry said. "But he said when he first went into football he made up his mind that if he wasn't making a certain amount of dollars in his fourth year he was going to retire."

Sudan Taken Over by Red Military

By ELIAS N. ANTAR
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT (AP) — Sudan's new pro-Communist military rulers formed a seven-man Revolutionary Council today, moved Africa's largest nation farther to the left and promised autonomy to the rebellious blacks in the south.

Maj. Hashem el Atta, who led the bloodless coup Monday, was named vice chairman of the ruling council and commander of the 30,000-man army.

The chairman is Col. Babikr al Nur Osman and the other members are Maj. Farouk Osman Hamdalla, two other majors and two captains.

Atta, Osman and Hamdalla all were fired from the military government last November because of their connections with the Sudanese Communist party.

Atta and Osman had been vice premiers and Hamdalla was interior minister.

Although Atta was allotted the No. 2 spot on the council, he appeared to be the top figure in the coup.

Omdurman Radio, the Sudanese government station, announced that Atta had canceled the previous government's ban on four organizations that had formed the power base of the Sudanese Communist Party: the Federation of Labor Trade Unions, the Students' Federation, the Youth League and the Women's League.

The four groups pledged "all out support" for the "socialist revolution."

Massive student street demonstrations in support of the coup leaders were reported.

The broadcast did not say whether Atta had also lifted the ban on the Communist party, but an earlier report said Atta promised he would bring the Communists into the new government.

Sudan has been the largest and most powerful Communist party in the Arab world, but it has been semi-clandestine since it was banned in February.

Atta, 36, overthrew his former comrade-in-arms 41-year-old Maj. Gen. Jaafar el Numairi, in a bloodless military coup Monday night.

Atta had been a vice premier under Numairi until last November, when he and two other pro-Communist officers were dismissed. Three months later Numairi cracked down on the Communists.

Contrary to earlier reports that Numairi had been flown to exile in Egypt, the Iraqi News Agency said today that he was still under arrest at army headquarters in Khartoum, the Sudanese capital.

Another Omdurman broadcast promised support of the Palestinian people against Israel and autonomy for the rebels in the south Sudan "as soon as law and order is restored."

A civil war between the Christian or animist blacks in the south and the Arab Muslims in the northern part of the country.

Bombs Pour On Enemy Positions

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers dropped 600 tons of explosives on suspected North Vietnamese positions along the demilitarized zone today after enemy gunners broke a full of more than three weeks with new attacks on South Vietnamese bases just below the DMZ.

All the B52 strikes were within a mile of the buffer zone, and it was the heaviest concentration of raids in nearly two weeks. The North Vietnamese gunners had slammed 52 mortars and rockets—including 240mm rockets—at three bases and one field position, but the South Vietnamese command said the shelling caused no casualties.

The targets included Camp Fuller, the western anchor of the frontier defense line, and the Alpha 1 and Alpha 2, strongholds in the eastern sector of the line.

In another shelling attack in the northern sector, Viet Cong gunners fired 10 mortars into the Van Thanh training center four miles northwest of Hue. Again Saigon headquarters said there were no casualties.

North Vietnamese troops ambushed a U.S. patrol from the 198th Brigade 43 miles southeast of Da Nang, killing one American and wounding four. Enemy losses were not known.

Associated Press correspondent J. T. Wolkert reported from Quang Tri that all units of the 1st Brigade, 5th U.S. Mechanized Infantry Division have been pulled out of combat, and the 5,000-man brigade is withdrawing from Vietnam at a faster pace than originally planned. He said the new target date for completion of its redeployment is Aug. 20 instead of Sept. 1.

The brigade is now at the Quang Tri combat base packing equipment, and all responsibility for the defense of Quang Tri Province, South Vietnam's northernmost, has been given to the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division.

A Viet Cong broadcast today echoed the North Vietnamese statement 24 hours earlier indicating that the Vietnamese Communists would not accept any peace deal President Nixon worked out during his visit to Peking unless it satisfied their demands.

"It is truly stupid and foolish," said the Viet Cong's Liberation Radio, "if Nixon thinks that by mobilizing and persuading other peoples, by borrowing and gathering the power and pressure of others, that he can eliminate the present difficulties and deadlocks, that he can intimidate and threaten the Vietnamese people and the Indochinese people ..."

"Nixon needs to know that the Indochinese people themselves are the ones who decide the fate and the future of their nations."

he was stricken.

His closest surviving relative here is a brother, Earnest Smith, of 620 Berry Street.

The remains will be shipped to Hope for burial.

Insurance Agents Plan No Fault Package for 1973 General Assembly

By JIM MCCALL
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Richard Herget, executive vice president of the Arkansas Association of Insurance Agents, says the group will submit to the 1973 General Assembly a package of insurance legislation that will include a type of no-fault automobile insurance.

"We are now in the process of informing our membership on the pros and cons of no-fault insurance," Herget said. "In fact, we have already drafted a modified no-fault bill that we are using as a model in our presentation."

Herget said there was no organized opposition in the state to the no-fault insurance. The idea has been criticized by some insurance companies in other states who insist the plan will raise rates. Some lawyers contend the no-fault insurance will penalize innocent victims of accidents who often deserve payment for more than their medical costs and salary losses.

Proponents of the idea, however, argue that the elimination of court suits to determine who shall pay a claim, will result in speedier payment of claims and reduced costs to companies that must engage in court battles.

Herget said the courts were swamped with cases involving accident-connected suits.

The new insurance idea basically proposes to eliminate the necessity of establishing blame in auto accidents before claims can be paid.

Herget said that attorney fees for accident-related suits accounted for 20 to 25 per cent of every insurance dollar that was paid for a claim.

"We have appointed a committee of agents to study no-fault and come up with what we will call the Consumer Insurance Package of 1973," Herget said. "We hope the package will be a major overhaul of existing insurance laws."

Herget said the package would contain a "modified" no-fault plan of some type of legislation that would make insurance rates more competitive.

"The competitive-rating legislation would have the same effect on insurance that the repeal of the fair-trade liquor law had on liquor," Herget said. He said such legislation would help stabilize the rising cost of insurance.

Under the modified no-fault plan, Herget said, a person would still have to carry residual liability insurance to protect himself in case he was involved in an accident that surpassed a "threshold limit."

The limit, he said, could be set at any amount, but the most acceptable figure would probably

Ellis in Good Shape for Ali

HOUSTON (AP) — Jimmy Ellis says he's in such shape for his scheduled 12-round bout here Monday with Muhammad Ali he's going to start tapering off training.

He put in a brisk 45-minute workout Monday, boxed four rounds with different sparring partners and went two rounds on the speed bag.

He said he would start cutting down today on his workout schedule and "might not box but two rounds ... or I might not box at all."

Ali confined his training Monday to one round of shadow boxing, two rounds on the heavy bag and five more on the speed bag.

He also crawled out of bed at 4 a.m. before the Houston heat built up and put in 40 minutes of running.

Court Asked to Permit to Permit Exchange

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court was asked Monday to permit an exchange of circuits between Circuit Judge Russell C. Roberts of Conway and Judge William J. Kirby of Little Rock.

Roberts arranged the exchange in connection with a request for a grand jury investigation of his activities. Roberts and Kirby agreed to exchange circuits during the empaneling of a grand jury in Pope County, which is one of five counties in Roberts' 5th Judicial Circuit. Kirby serves the 6th Judicial Circuit.

Pros. Atty. Alex G. Streett of Russellville has been attempting to determine procedures for the calling of a Pope County Grand Jury to investigate a system under Roberts in Pope County whereby fees were forfeited in felony cases by persons who received suspended sentences.

The Supreme Court, ruling on a petition filed by Streett, said June 21 that an exchange of circuits upon agreement of the circuit judges or appointment of a judge by the chief justice was open "as an alternative method" of selecting a judge to preside over the empaneling of a grand jury.

In a petition for a rehearing, Streett contended that appointment by the chief justice was the only acceptable method in the Pope County case.

On June 28, the Supreme Court issued an order prohibiting Kirby from taking any action in connection with a Pope County Grand Jury.

Attorneys for Roberts said Monday in their petition that the only question in the appeal "is whether or not this court meant what it said in the opinion" handed down June 21. The attorneys asked that Streett's request for a rehearing be denied.

They contended that Article 7, Section 22 of the state Constitution provides for an exchange of circuits between the judges. Section 20 of the same article says no judge shall "preside" in the trial of any case in which he has an interest.

In an earlier case, the court ruled that an incumbent judge would not have been permitted to select another judge in an exchange of circuits if the incumbent had been a litigant in the proceeding for which the exchange was arranged.

Roberts' attorneys said he was not a litigant in the grand jury proceeding since a litigant involves participating in a lawsuit.

Working On Ozark Project

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three of Gov. Dale Bumpers' aides—Eugene Kelley, James A. LaMonica and Bob Brier — are working on an Ozarks Regional Commission project in conjunction with the state governmental reorganization plan.

Bumpers made the announcement Monday. None of the three are paid by the state.

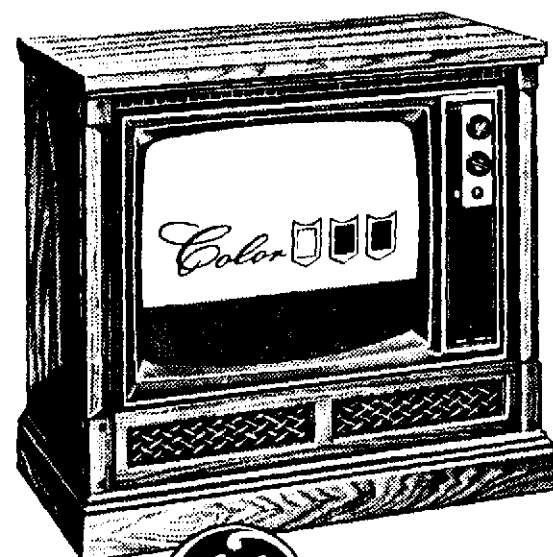

Kelley has continued to serve as Bumpers' executive secretary and LaMonica has continued his earlier work on the implementation of the reorganization project approved by the 1971 legislature. Brier, formerly a television newsman at Little Rock, was hired for the Ozarks project.

Brier, Kelley and LaMonica will work on the Ozarks project as a committee with an assist from a specialist in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

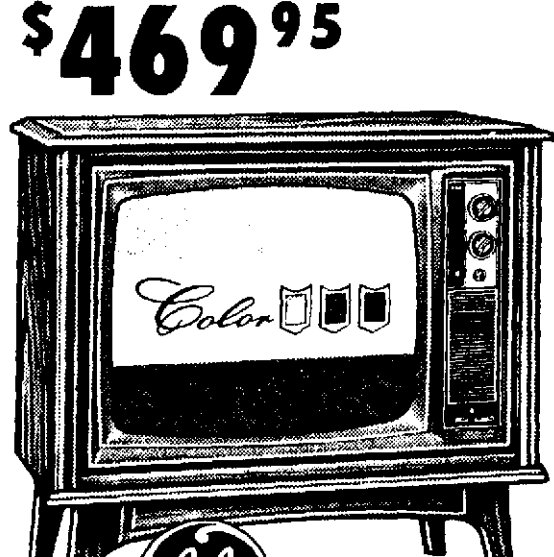

The governor said he had no one in mind to succeed Kelley. On July 1, the salary for the executive secretary position increased from $15,000 to $16,500. Kelley said he did not know what he would be paid under the Ozarks project.
